HAPPY ENDINGS - KELLIE

Kellie is doing absolutely wonderful at her new home! It took her a while to settle in and get comfortable, but her personality is finally beginning to shine through! She's become great friends with my older brother's yellow Labrador, Candy, who comes over every weekday to have a play date with Kellie while he's at work. Kellie was very scared of Candy at first, but after a little while they became the best of friends. They chase one another around the yard, chew on bones, play tug of war, and share the couch for their afternoon naps. Kellie becomes a little sad and mopes around when Candy goes home at the end of the day, but when morning comes that is quickly forgotten. She was a little afraid of Dad at first, but now he's one of her favorite cuddle buddies and is quickly becoming her favorite playmate. She is definitely becoming more playful and aggressive when Dad starts to play. She loves to hide her toys on his side of bed for him to find when he comes home from work. It took Kellie and Mom a little time to grow on one another, but now they take naps together and go on car rides. Kellie loves car rides (especially to PetsMart)! Kellie and I have been getting along great as well! I am only able to be at home every other weekend (I attend college), but on those days Kellie is like my little shadow! She follows me everywhere and anywhere. If I stay in my room with the door closed for too long, she lets me know that she wants in and she's getting in no matter how much noise she has to make. She's become my cuddle buddy at night when I go home. I secretly think the only reason she likes it when I come home is because I let her sleep in my bed at night. She gets into a little mischief every now and then, but she's responded well when we tell her "no" or simply say her name. She makes some of the funniest little noises and it just makes her personality so vibrant and interesting!

Kellie definitely came to our family when we needed her the most. We all feel like it was meant for us to have her in our lives. We had lost our beloved miniature schnauzer in December 2007 and we received Kellie in January 2008. She cannot replace our schnauzer, but she has definitely made her own special place in our home and in our hearts. We are looking forward to many years of love, happiness, and laughter with Kellie. Thank you so much OWR for allowing us to have Kellie in our lives!
