We Didn't Like

HAPPY ENDINGS - STEWIE

We adopted 4 year old Stewie the end of February 2011. He adjusted to our home the minute he stepped inside the door. My friends tell me he is very handsome and they are right. He is a happy, healthy Westie and loves to chase rabbits in our backyard. He does well considering we don't have a fenced yard. He is learning to stay in his own yard and of course he loves to go for walks on a leash. Stewie sleeps in bed with us and only barks once when he needs to go outside. It's as if he doesn't want to bother you so he only barks once and then makes a clicking/popping sound with his jaws after the first bark to alert you that he needs to go outside. He knows the word "treat" and if he is outside and I want him to come inside all I have to do is say treat and he makes a bee line into the house.

We feel very fortunate to have such a loving, well-behaved Westie. The groomer said he was perfect on the grooming table. In these photos, he has just come back from the groomer and he is feeling very proud of himself. We couldn't have asked for a better dog to enrich our lives.
